

UPDATE:

as of 6:32pm est he violated the victims wishes and name dropped them despite the warning in this doc that people wished to remain private and anonymous. He posted a statement in which he blames the actions he took on trauma. I will allow people to make their own judgements however they fit. I would like to add though Blu's own words when Toby was outed in this situation.

Overview:

HexumFiend and KingShada have both groomed and have been inappropriate with minors, as young as 13 /14 years old, while being 19/20. Toby was 18/19 during the time he was being inappropriate with minors, which included—but was not limited to—masturbating in a call with minors (aged 14, aged 15), drawing NSFW of minors (aged 14/15, aged 15), and more. Blu, in a now deleted discord server, had roleplayed NSFW scenarios with minors, drawn NSFW/shown NSFW to minors (aged 15, aged 14) and more. This resulted in a group chat with Toby (18) & Blu (19) with a minor (15), where therein they (Toby & Blu) engaged in flirtatious conversation. Blu would send NSFW art and memes, as well as setting up ships with the purpose of flirting to begin a romance, encouraging the minor to make sexual remarks about their sonas. Toby would privately speak about how he wanted to fly the minor out for sexual purposes. And, in the future, after Blu was made aware that Toby had groomed several minors, Blu would begin a relationship with one of the victims (Red, 18 now). He claimed to have no idea of what Toby had done, but he (22) would, in secret, fly Red (18) out, making himself their first physical sexual experience (they would get an infection from the contact). Blu would continue to gaslight the people around him when his past was questioned, as well as concealing his current relationship. This would last well over a year. In this year, Blu would fetishize their age gap and vent about how it was not predatory. He would emotionally manipulate the person he groomed for three years, resulting in Red having unprecedented breakdowns and suicidal ideations. He would weaponize his own traumas to override the needs of this teenager, and leave them feeling like they couldn't criticize his actions, lest they be like the people who had hurt him in the past. He, additionally, lied about his involvement with Toby's predation and his own inappropriate relationship with minors in the past.

(He has admitted to all of this here)

Below is a timeline of events that have happened concerning both Blu and Toby. You will see that this is not EVERY interaction. There were several more that weren't included for brevity, despite the length of this very long doc. We ask that all parties involved and censored remain anonymous until they wish to come forward.

Introduction:

Blu, or Hexumfiend, was in a relationship with Toby, or KingShada, from 2018 to 2021. Within the first year of their relationship, they made friends with a handful of people through Blu's previous Discord servers (a community hub for his art). A majority of them were minors who would be invited, by Blu, to a private server (1) (2) (3), away from the main, to spend more time. (Blu would also host a smaller server in which he would be 18 and the other parties would be 3 minors who were as young as 14 and only 16) These servers would include NSFW channels uncensored where both Toby and Blu would engage in/encourage NSFW conversations with them. Toby's access to the ones he groomed was because of this server, and the private continuation of his actions with each individual victim was not confronted by Blu — who took part in the same. The server has since been deleted as a way of covering up what happened within, (Blu has stated this on call) however, there is evidence of the server's existence and external sharing of NSFW with the victims.

Toby was confronted for his actions throughout his personal relationship in 2020, later cut from all contact after the knowledge of his predatory behavior came forward in 2022. Blu was confronted many times throughout 2022, but was cut from all contact from all parties involved in 2023.

Counter: Toby & Blu being inappropriate with Red

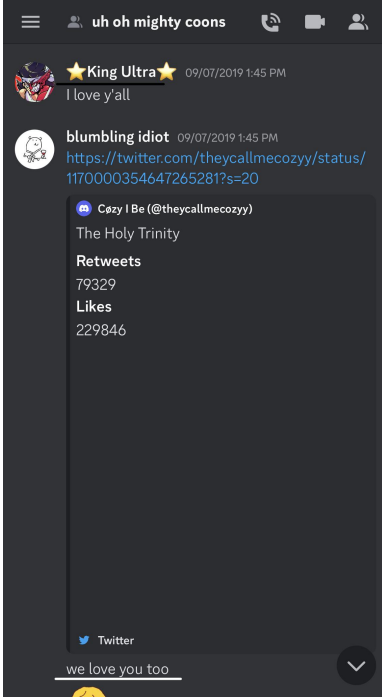

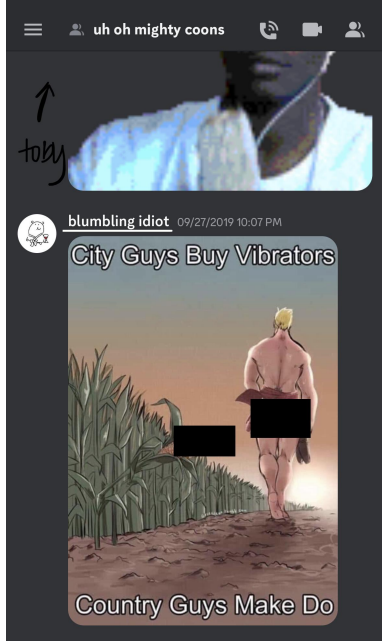

{Context: Blu and Toby encouraging Red to make sexual or flirtatious comments about characters and encouraging Red to call them. This group chat included Red, Toby, and Blu solely. Blu would send conventionally attractive sonas of Toby's, knowing that sharing characters to pair was their form of flirting. Toby would follow up and lightly dissuade Red from picking out his sonas, instead saying he has a plan to make more for Red personally.}

{Red's Take: [Toby] and [Blu] were very adamant about enjoying my presence and spending time with me. In these screens are both of them talking to me and asking me to be in calls with them for hours at a time. I considered myself a friend, like the child to a married couple (a common occurrence for me and friends who were dating) so I found comfort in their wanting to include me. This takes place well after 2019 when [Blu] first had his suspicions of [Toby] flirting with me, but continued to talk to him and me in the same space, now doing the very things [Toby] did in private. [Blu] has known about my grooming from start to finish and had no contribution to my distancing from [Toby]— I had to leave him on my own and ignore the countless times he tried to reach out to me afterwards. I forgot about this group chat from repressing trauma, but [Blu] has admitted to remembering [Toby] every single day since they broke up.}

{Addendum: He would also approach Pink and Toby about Toby's flirting with Red during 2019, expressing how he felt like he was being cheated on due to Toby's interest in and pursuit of Red. He not only knew that Toby had been flirting with Red (And Toby had directly asked him to join in as well) but also participated in it during the calls and the chat seen above. He would later go as far as to make light of it to Red directly during their relationship}

I've literally been through every type of abuse in the book and if u can handle me randomly having flashbacks to "aha I remember when this happened to me" and it's the worst thing you've heard

I can handle u being autistic for an hour or two

You're not replaceable

If im being honest if u left or something happened to you im out lmao

Good luck everybody else

Be yourself

I want you to be yourself around ms

Me*

I like that a bout you

I LIKE YOU

NEED I REMIND U

shakes you like a snow globe

I'm not dating you for something like [REDACTED] did, im dating you because I like you and you're literally the best partner I've ever had

Hands down

{Context: Expressing emotional attachment to Red, still dating in secret.

Additional Instance:

{Context: Green mentioned the now deleted NSFW RP server to an ex-friend, who from an outside perspective deemed it inappropriate and criticized its existence. Blu would go on to tell Yellow, who would ask for logistics of the server and if the allegations were true. Blu lied about both. This is the second time, from a completely unrelated party, that someone would state Blu was grooming minors.}

{Context: The conversation between Blu, Yellow, and Pink about the old NSFW RP server. Blu lies on many fronts (the server started when he was a minor and ended when he was 18, discouraged NSFW conversations, taking initiative about Toby), undermining his involvement in the server and the actuality of when it existed.}

Red POV:

 blumbling idiot 10/03/2022 9:06 PM i hope they dont try and say i was like doing shit with anyone because i wasnt and i made the server when i was still in school  blumbling idiot 10/03/2022 9:16 PM i told [redacted] everything and he was like "oh ok ur fine"  i just dont wanna be called a groomer when i wasnt even talking to anyone sexually i wasnt targetting anyone  nsfw jokes thrown around about ocs we like is one thing [redacted] 10/03/2022 9:16 PM ok jesus thats good yea...  blumbling idiot 10/03/2022 9:17 PM im sitting here shaking because i dont want my friends to think im some fucking freak who needs to be monitored	bro enough. i was a fucking minor like come on [redacted] 10/03/2022 10:11 PM   blumbling idiot 10/03/2022 10:12 PM me when i get accused of being a groomer by 2 people  both people still keep in contact with me despite having accused me of something heinous for the sole purpose that they might get something out of me

{Context: Blu speaks to Red about the situation, expressing that he's not a groomer and that the accusations of being such frustrated him. He goes on to talk about Pink as well as Green's ex-friend, saying they both accused him unfairly yet kept contact for the chance to get art, money, (etc.). Even if the server had been created when Blu was a minor, allowing NSFW jokes between a demographic of 14-15 year olds and 17-18 year olds should not be allowed.}

Third Confrontation:

{The pronouns underlined in black are Toby. The pronoun underlined in white is Blu.}

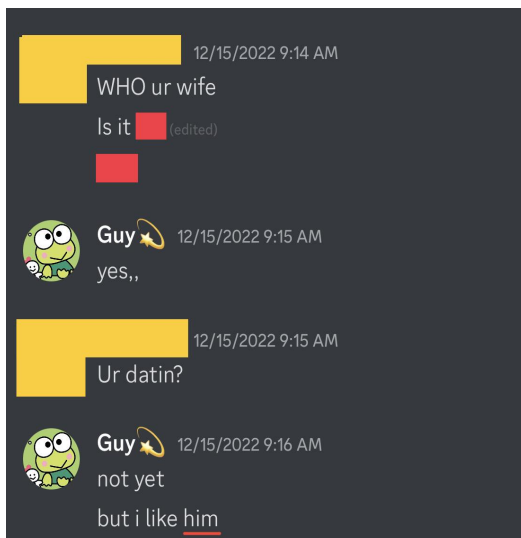

{Context: Yellow confronts Blu again about his romantic feelings towards Red, expressing the power imbalance and circumstantial issues that come with it. Blu agrees and says that he understands the weight of the relationship. Yellow and Pink have been advising Blu on the relationship since April of 2022.}

{Yellow's Take: We were on call at the time and [Blu] messaged me about the situation between him and Red, we had talked this over before hand several times but this time [Blu] had said that he didn't understand what was the problem with the age gap. The message beforehand had been deleted after sending, citing embarrassment as the reason [\[as seen here\]](#), but I gathered from it that he didn't understand that him and Red's ages weren't the biggest issue. It was the fact that he was present— and unbeknownst to me, active— in [Toby's] grooming of Red.}

{The conversation ended with me advocating for him to seek out healthier relationships and referencing myself prior that I was proud of him for making the choice that kept Red's mental health and recovery on higher regards of his own desperation (seen below). In the same call, out loud, I mentioned that ultimately Red needs time to heal and dating them before the healing process could occur would be damaging to their health. [Blu] agreed with everything and said he understood.}

**(Addendum: Blu started another relationship with a different teen (19 y.o) after this, asking them too to keep it private.)

\(link to image\)

{Context: Blu lies to Red, saying Yellow has now heard about their relationship and approved of it. Yellow did not accept the relationship, and at this point was actively speaking against it. The day after Blu lies to Yellow as well, still calling Red a friend.}

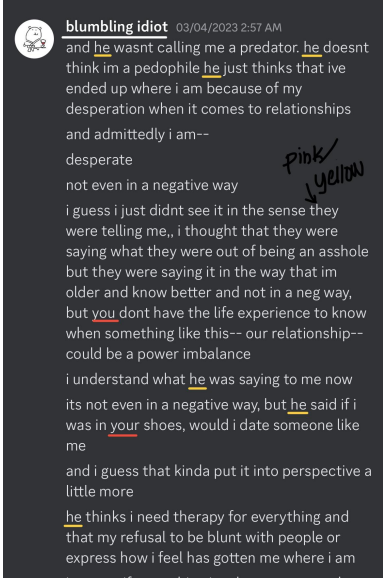

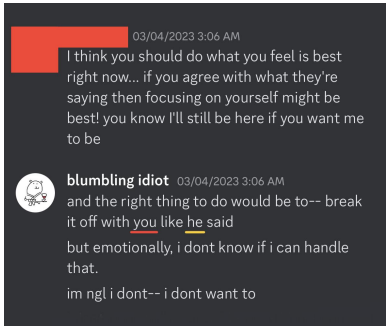

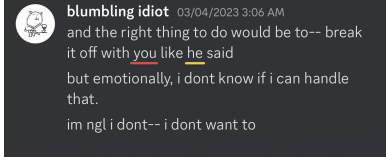

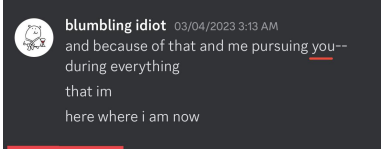

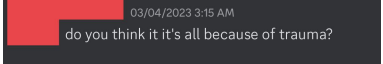

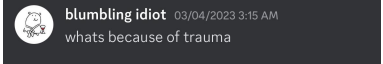

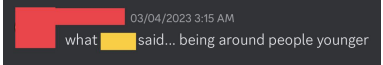

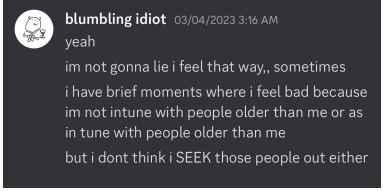

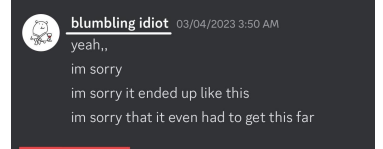

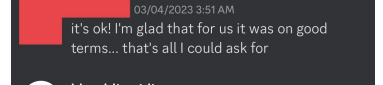

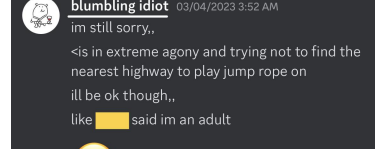

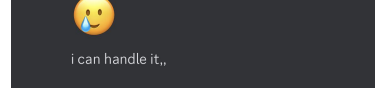

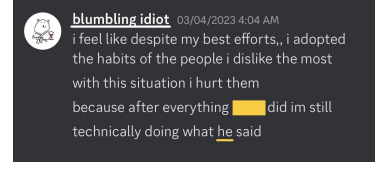

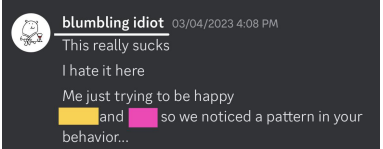

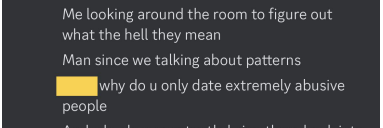

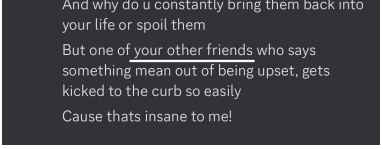

{Context: Blu lies to Yellow saying the “taken” in the bio is in reference to trying to dissuade someone else’s unwanted flirting with him, after Blu had expressed discomfort with it. Prior to this Blu said he was too nervous/uncomfortable to tell them to stop so the fake partner idea was then thought up in its place. December 19th, Yellow and Blue had a call [after another incident with the flirt] in which they decided it was for the best to include ‘taken’ to stop the advances from the other person. The confirmation was sent less than two minutes after the call ended.}

{Red’s Take: Blu told me Yellow was okay with us dating and that we could finally be a public couple starting with putting this in our bios. I didn't know he was still lying to Yellow about why “taken” was in his.}

{Black is anonymous, not Toby.}

{Context: In a final call with Pink, Yellow, Brown, and Blu, Yellow confronts Blu about all the events that transpired over the last year, including the relationship with Red after finding out Blu had been actively lying about it. Blu shares the conversation's resolve with Red after, expressing all the points Yellow (and Pink and Brown by proxy) made that he agreed with— including the ones Pink mentioned in April of last year about Blu's age demographic. Blu would go on to say that all of Yellow's suspicions were correct and that his inability to confront people (and holding the resentment) was his biggest issue and the downfall of the friendship. He still would go on to insult Yellow's circumstance to Red 4 minutes after this.}

**(Addendum: Pink and Yellow didn't know about his involvement with minors at this point)

{Red's Take: I comforted him during this time with the lack of knowledge I still had about Pink and Yellow. Blu would use the words of encouragement to fuel his vent (last screen) about the situation and how unfair it was that he was facing criticism at all. He would continue this and share suicidal ideation thoughts like he did the first time we had to break up. Even though I still considered him a good person here, I was extremely exhausted and ultimately thankful we could just be friends again, hoping I wouldn't be a part of the consistent arguments. I was tired of the inability for the situation to end and I was tired of hearing Blu insult the same people he was devastated about potentially losing.}

{Context: 3 days later, Red would talk to Yellow directly about the events of last year in full. Yellow made a final call to Blu asking confirmation about the things Blu had lied about that Red confirmed. Blu messages Red during this time, asking if they felt he was a groomer. Red, in response, asks if Blu personally felt like the relationship was weird, to which Blu lies saying that he was never embarrassed about the relationship and the only reason he didn't tell Yellow sooner was from Red's wishes of people not knowing his business (a lie). In the earlier parts of the relationship it has been Blu explicitly that kept things reserved, making no attempts at publicity. This is the last day Blu would speak to Red, from Red's own choice to distance.}

Statements:

Below are personal statements concerning the situation, concerning Blu & Toby and concerning our actions taken during this year. Blu specifically this past year has effectively manipulated and gaslit several people in this situation, many people are still suffering the effects of his mistreatment. Cyan and Purple have declined to make a statement as the situation is very troubling for them to indulge. They and the others below wish for this to be the final word on the matter.

Red's Statement:

Red- I was friends with Toby from the years 2018-2021 and Blu 2018-2023. I was invited to a server for friends that included them both along with other victims. During this time I was engaging in accessible NSFW channels with both while underaged. This included but was not limited to— asking for recordings of myself masturbating, drawing NSFW of myself (no sona or fill in), sending NSFW and comparing the person's likeness to myself, calling me baby, etc. Toby would continue to reach out to me in private to flirt and encourage sexual conversations until I cut contact myself early 2021 in February. Blu, at this point, also drew NSFW art for me, roleplayed NSFW scenarios, and even agreed to continue sexual conversations with the three of us. (Note: this is something that was lost on me up until recently when looking for evidence. There is a lot from the past few years that I have blanked on/forgotten. My primary focus and worry was Toby). I did not hear from nor was I checked in on by Blu during Toby's grooming.

I kept Blu as a friend during the aftermath, considering him a good friend and someone who didn't know about what Toby had done. The conversations were sporadic and not frequent until the year 2022 when I was reintroduced to him, related to Toby's grooming. After reconnecting we would date that April and throughout the end of the year. (Note: Blu would bring up Toby throughout the entire beginning of our relationship, comparing what Toby tried to do to me to what he was actively doing. He gloated about how I eventually chose him over Toby. At the time I did not remember that he was an active part of Toby's grooming, and a reason why I couldn't leave the situation sooner. He would tell me, however, that he didn't go a day without thinking about Toby since they'd broken up.) Our relationship was private even to those close to Blu and I supported his defense against friends who heavily encouraged breaking up with me, being fed misinformation throughout the entire year. Early on in our recent friendship/relationship he reinstituted sexual conversations and would encourage me to make sonas that he could draw NSFW of. Once Pink confronted him last year in April he would continue to tell me in detail every argument he had with Pink and Yellow, putting the perspective in my head that they were terrible people. I spent a majority of last year comforting him with the issues he would lie to me about, ignoring my mental wellbeing and real life needs. I felt terrible not helping Blu because he reminded me constantly that he was mistreated his entire life and just needed someone who would be there for him, all the while I had no space to express myself away from his situation. I developed passive suicide ideation and dissociation from this time because I was so upset about the arguments— I was struggling with personal issues in my home and with my mental health that I'm still recovering from.

I don't think I'll ever have the words to describe how I feel about the situation as a whole. The timeline of all these events devastates me. I wish that I had someone to help me and get me out of the situation, or at least put my safety over some internal need for validation. I spent years of my life in the hands of people who were comfortable with using me for sexual exploitation or emotional support when it benefited them, on top of an unhealthy emotional attachment. Most of what I underwent is lost to me because of how much I had to repress to move forward, a lot of which I now know was entertained by someone I trusted cared about my wellbeing and safety. There are a lot of mental hangups I still actively struggle with because of my years of being groomed, some I can only hope will fade with time. I still look at my past solemnly and wish that I could've spent those years being a kid, and had adults around me who cared about my childhood. Overall, I have been taken advantage of for 3-4 years. I am deeply hurt by the extent of what's happened to me throughout those three years, and I would ask to not be associated with/hear from either Blu or Toby from here on out.

Green's Statement:

Green- I've known Blu since 2017-2023 I was a big fan of his content and befriending him was something that made me so happy. It wasn't until 2018 that Blu introduced me to his boyfriend at the time, Toby. He said he wanted to get his boyfriend more involved by adding him into group chats with me and other friends of mine, some who happen to be victims of them. But he wasn't too active in them.

In June 2018 Blu invited me into a Roleplay server that allowed unrestricted NSFW access and chats where I could gush about my favorite characters; I was 14 at the time when I joined. Toby didn't start DMing me til' November of 2019, that's when things started to get off with him. At the time I was aware that Blu and Toby were dating but I didn't quite understand why Toby would call me cute or admit to crushing on my sona or stuff like that. I assumed he was being extra nice to me but that wasn't the case. The last time I spoke to Toby was February 5th 2022.

For the longest I've always considered Blu a close friend. I knew him since I was 13 and the only thing I wanted was to be his friend. He'd draw stuff for me, make sonas for me, we even made characters together and we pulled all-nighters in group vcs while reading stuff. I do admit there have been times where we wouldn't talk for months at a time mainly because I was intimidated to talk to him but even then I still considered him a close friend. It hurts to hear him say that me and him weren't close when that isn't true. Overall, I'm just hurt by everything that Blu and Toby have done to me and the other victims involved.

Pink's Statement:

Pink - **Please excuse the long lead up. I don't know where to begin or end with Blu— for the shortened version read the excerpt below and skip to here.**

Being with Blu was genuinely awful in a multitude of ways. From the beginning there were several issues between him and Toby and I was forced to play mediator in all of them. When the issues would involve me, (i.e Toby), being transphobic towards me, Blu would try to back him up and explain Toby's actions until there was no longer any excuse.. Blu and Toby would also go to my groomer Orange and shit talk me together. When confronted about their mistreatment of me Blu would sometimes draw his sonas harming and/or murdering a stand in version of me and when confronting him about that or anything else he would draw guilt trippy vent art and brush it off as “its nothing” or that “that's about something else” even though the scenarios match and he would draw it right after a confrontation. Whenever these situations happened they both would make group chats to talk about the situation with me in it. Everytime it ended in “well this was all a big miscommunication, sorry.” Those behaviors would not change.

Pink's History

(This section has been included to provide further context about the situation from a first hand account form someone who was close to both Toby and Blu)

During this time I was extremely mentally ill, my homelife was a mess and I was dealing with a physically/verbally/sexually abusive partner (now ex), and a drug addicted abusive family member, my uncle, who was genuinely trying to kill my family to the point that everyone dispersed and moved. Because of everything I would just blackout or have a very foggy memory and end up in parking lots with a bunch of things I had bought and I would sob for hours. Blu knew this. The black out portions are relevant here and I would also like to state that I am a system to help explain how that would go for me.

Unfortunately Toby knows my trauma as well and asked me to open up about my uncle who also molested me as a child. In this call I told him how he scares the fuck out of me and I am terrified of anyone that is like him. Toby then tells me that he had molested his sister in the very same call. This causes me to black out after that conversation. I genuinely don't remember what happened after that. I was just coping. I felt trapped after that and a bit scared. I really didn't know what to do. Toby would tell me that it happened so long ago and that it doesn't matter because he's changed. He used the same tactics that my uncle pulled on me and it triggered a reaction and I just forgot. I'm mad at myself for forgetting I feel like an awful person that my bRedn blocked this from me. After this all my mental health steadily deteriorated.

Around this time I came forward to them both and told them I was only 18 and apologized for misleading them earlier. They both brushed it off and did not mind at all and continued our relationship.

Blu needed help leaving his house due to its own toxic nature. I offered my hand in support and even went homeless for a portion before I was able to secure him a place to stay. With my boss. During this time I was working full time to help Blu and also my own immediate family after the dispersal of us all. Collectively, me and a few others who were willing to help (without help from Blu), managed to save up at least $3,000 - $4,000 USD to secure this place for Blu who was now living with my ex-boss as this was the only option we could find. During this time Blu would berate me for not taking out a $10,000-20,000 loan from loan sharks for a car and a house. This led me to having a huge breakdown which is when I started distancing myself from me.

After all of that, Toby's dad randomly passes and leaves Toby to be this weird awful person to me and others around us. At the time I understood because it was his father. But he started asking people out and trying to force relationships further romantically and made people feel trapped because his dad just died, and everyone was afraid to tell him no. This was my breaking point. I just had enough with everything. I started thinking about my relationship with everyone I was with. The stress triggered another breakdown and traumatic memories surfaced. One of these was what I remembered about his sister. I cried and told Blu and my other partner (now ex) we can no longer be with him. After this I started to distance myself slowly as I didn't want Toby to suicide bait me due to my trauma with Orange doing the same to me. I didn't know what other way to do it but I made it a plan to everyone that we should all leave him as soon as possible. Months pass and we are now living with Yellow. Blu for some fucking reason is still talking to Toby and is still with him knowing about his sister. All of the people living in the house said to leave him and stop contacting him. This is when I told Blu if you talk/complain about him that I don't give a shit and that I don't want to deal with it. He is an awful person and always will be. Even after Blu broke up with Toby he was still in contact with Toby playing games with him, This made me fucking pissed and was a huge bump in our relationship and I became even more distant with Blu over time.

While living with Yellow and starting a relationship with them, several traumatic things happened which aren't include but aren't limited to, witnessing Yellow being locked in a room by/with their abusive ex and hearing them scream to be let out and to let go of them, I was raped by my (now ex) partner (not Blu)((I became more distant/cold with everyone and kept this to myself for months because i don't know how to talk about things when traumatic things happen and just stay silent about it. (Note: they were still living in the house for a couple of long months before I came out about it because things have just gotten out of hand)), having an angry racist storm up to our door and scare the hell out of us and more. During all of this Yellow's medical complications due to the trauma and stress of the ongoing situations and being the main financial provider for the home. Blu was for no reason snappy, rude and cruel to Yellow. This sparked more arguments around the household. Blu seemed to decline for the worse and began smoking everyday and being so inebriated he couldn't do basic tasks. He would roam the house aimlessly and forget to take care of his responsibilities. When reminded he would get extremely aggravated and slam shit around and stomp around like a child. From our utensils rusting and rotting, to food spoiling from being left out, to trash piling up on his desk and around it, he didn't maintain any of his chores to the point where everyone else was forced to pick up his slack and all of his household duties were taken from him to avoid his tantrums and laziness. His only chores became going on grocery runs and taking out the dog. The same dog he continuously hotboxed to the point of him stumbling around. This triggered my trauma with overconsumption of drugs and abuse and it would start more debates of which never got solved and typically ended in an empty apology, slammed doors and repeated behaviors the very next day.

Blu would then go on to secretly flirt with and entertain a crush on an 18 year old. He claims that at the time he had no recollection of this person's age at all. When asked he swore up and down he harbored no feelings for them and that this 18 yo was just a friend (2021). I have rules when it comes to flirting and finding a new person you might wanna be with, they are basic and many other poly people have the same boundaries: just tell me if you have a crush and I'd like to meet them so I can know who might join our polycule. He would again deny liking this person and ultimately was discovered emotionally cheating/flirting with this teen despite lying to me about their feelings. This leads to us breaking up, we end things and I told him that our relationship is unhealthy and that we need a break from each other but that I still do love him and I want the best for him. I wish it had gotten better from here. After this he continued to think we are in a relationship to where I had to remind him irl we weren't and that I need space. These moments made me uncomfortable because he would make comics about our relationship, and draw my sonas forgiving him and loving him again and I just would sit there uncomfortable.

Pink's Perspective: Current

Now roll onto the day we found out Toby groomed many kids... Blu makes a group chat with all of the kids and me included halfway through. I was really not okay during this and had many ptsd episodes and started age regressing during this, so I couldn't talk much in chat. I was just crying while reading. I felt awful like I did this like I endangered them even when he was doing this way before we met. I felt disgusted and got therapy for this. My intrusive thoughts were making me depressed so it was hard to communicate through all of this. But I handled the situation and got in contact with Toby, told his friends and family and said he's lucky the victims couldn't press charges. During this I was helping Blu cope and began talking to him as we would both cry on call trying to figure this situation out and comfort each other. Weeks go by and Blu tells me he has a crush, asking if he could date them. I was confused by this and told him we aren't dating. He then says "oh" and I asked if anything was wrong and he told me several times that he's okay and that to not worry. Blu then goes, he tells people (including Red) that he just found out that hes no longer in a relationship with me and says how sad he is to his followers in his discord chat. This is weird because before in his server he talked about having a crush and wanting to date that person. If he thought we were in a relationship, why was he flirting with someone for weeks and then telling me about the crush as soon as he planned on dating them? Just like before with the 18 y.o I mentioned earlier.

I found out he was dating Red, one of Tobys victims. I was angry and getting triggered as they are a fucking victim of our ex, they are a teen that needs healing. I told Blu that they are way too young and that they are a new 18 year old and Blu is 22. I was shocked and grossed out, I told Blu that this is not healthy for Red and how dating someone who is 18 and was groomed by our ex is not okay and predatory, considering Red's mental health, and that I understand about being desperate but they need therapy first and healing and to find anyone else to date. Me and Blu come to an agreement to break it off with Red and he said he will think about it. AFTER THAT he goes to Yellow and lies about the whole thing and that he never dated Red but that he let them down and decided HIMSELF that it was not okay to date them. I was told this by Yellow (because we live in the same damn house) and was extremely upset by this.

There so much much much much more but here's a short snip of what happened after this:

- Blu starts flirting with Yellow (who was going through a months long paranoid schizophrenic break and was easily manipulated and made distrustful of others) and it makes me mad and uncomfortable, but Blu would then blame me and say I was an awful person and that nothing was happening even tho he WOULD TELL PEOPLE that he was in a RELATIONSHIP with Yellow.

- Would lie and tell people that I abuse drugs even though he knew my crippling trauma with them, and how I had to be sent to the hospital because I was panicking on an edible thinking I was becoming my uncles.

- Would talk shit about me related to my abusive groomer Orange (who groomed me from 15-20 while they were 19/20-25) that I am still struggling with attachment to and needed therapy for due to the way I was manipulated.

-Implied that I raped/sexually assaulted Yellow (to his (Yellow 's) abuser?????????) but not once did they ask or approach Yellow to see if he was okay or safe.

-Lied about not drawing porn of Red before and after they were 18.

-Lied about not knowing Red was being groomed.

- Hid the fact that he (22) met up with Red irl (18) for sex, twice.

- Gave me UTIs throughout all of my relationship because of how dirty he was from his lack of hygiene (he has constant vulvovaginitis). Note: UTIs give me PTSD due to my childhood sexual trauma).

-Sided and flirted with Yellow 's physical and emotional abuser and said that Yellow should've been more lenient with the person that abused them.

-Sent porn to the same kids Toby was grooming— made a server with all of those kids (13-16) talking about sex while he was 18+.

- Would talk shit to Yellow 's abuser constantly, and made fun of him to them. (The guy who locked Yellow in a room against his will and got physically aggressive with him.)

-Said after we confronted him about his weird actions with Red and other victims that he understood what he had done wrong during all of this, but then went to tell as many people as he could misinformation and would lie to cover his name.

(Red Note: Blu would fill me in on his past throughout the entirety of our relationship, lying about events as they came up in conversation. He lied to me about Pink the most, framing them as an awful, unforgiving person who had no leniency or kindness with him. He would shame them for their trauma (I.e. guilting them for having issues with him smoking "to cope", insulting their inability to distance from ex-partner Orange) even saying that if Pink cared about the victims of Toby, they should've messaged me and distanced from Orange faster. He made fun of them often. I didn't reach out to Pink for this reason, and overexerted myself in my relationship with Blu to make up for what kindness and emotional support I thought he never had.)

I could honestly go on and on. I have been dealing with this fucking endless abuse for years and I am sick and fucking tired. Blu you have ruined my relationships with people and my mental health, especially with my family. I went fucking homeless with you, FOR you. I did EVERYTHING for you. You care about nothing but you and your self image and being perceived as a victim. You have hurt so many people it's insane. Your viewers deserve to know how horrible you've been to these fucking kids and to others. I don't understand Blu? Why? Those were kids and you knew how I felt about them. I cried to you how those were nothing but babies we knew and how we needed to assist them and make sure they are safe and you agreed with me just to flip and do this shit. You're awful. You broke my relationships, my trust in people and made my trauma and trust issues worse. Thank you to others who chose to read all of this and are supporting us throughout all of this. Thank you. I hope the victims in this situation are given the time and space and help they need to recover.

Yellow's Statement:

Yellow- When I discovered Toby had groomed multiple children ranging from 13-16 I was genuinely horrified. I supported the victims and the parties affected from the sidelines and offered my shoulder for both Blu and Pink as they coped with the realization of what Toby had done. Later, when I found out that Blu was interested in dating not only a person who was newly an adult and yet still a teen, but a victim of his ex (who was, at the time, newly coming to terms with their abuse from Toby) I strongly encouraged him to find someone else. From the start I had stated that there was no way this would be able to turn out well. I had said that pursuing a relationship immediately after reconnecting due to the Toby situation would stunt Red's healing process and be wholly inappropriate for a multitude of reasons, the biggest yet being the history they had and the imbalances that was brought with it.

Blu expressed that he understood these things and would lament about how much he liked Red. I expressed that you can't control how you feel but your actions are what matter. I said that regardless of his feelings for Red that ultimately, not only is this person 18 and not only are they a Victim to your partner's grooming but they just cut contact with Toby in late 2021. In Early 2022 (february) they felt comfortable enough to come forward and speak to others about the coercion faced from Toby and less than 10 weeks later they were already dating them, (though they lied about this to me at the time and said they decided not to and they never dated).

From then on Blu would refer to Red exclusively as a friend and would even rarely mention them by name. They would literally only call them "my friend". Around June I started experiencing mild symptoms of psychosis and paranoia about being hurt or harmed intentionally. My fear was ramped up further by Blu who would validate all my delusions and jump to conclusions and make assumptions on things. Around this time, when stable, I told him that sometimes instead of hyping up my fears and paranoia many times I just need to be told "It's okay it's probably nothing". He told me he understood this and we pushed forward. Also around this time he apologized for his mistreatment of me which took place in my home when he lived with us. (Blu would make rude comments, slam doors in my face, huff and slam stuff around to the point of it breaking and was genuinely nasty to me. He'd go so far as to talk down my special interests/hyper fixations and cut me off when talking to the others in the house to talk down and badly to me. He'd lose his temper on me constantly and in a passive aggressive silent way he would make it be known he didn't like me....despite living in my home. At the time for over a year I was the primary income to a house of up to five/six. Others in the house would help around attempting to do house work or chores or runs so that I could focus on work and try to work while unmedicated. Blu would throw tantrums at the idea of housework and when it came to bringing in money he would always have some excuse as to why he couldn't do something which led to my own queue lengthening as I took on more work to support us.) I forgave him for these things later on and would be a big advocate in the fact that he was changing.

What I didn't know at the time was the fact that he was lying to people about me and Pink and even went so far to share intimate details of my crippling mental health and literal trauma to people I didn't know, this was a huge breach of boundaries and trust.

Blu would tell us all that he was not with Red throughout all of this and would get extremely mad at Pink forever suggesting the idea that he might be preying on them. Blu would get more and more insistent that Pink was always doing something to purposefully harm me and when I would vent about common issues that happen in relationships Blu would take it further and manipulate me into thinking that Pink was purposefully trying to hurt me mentally and physically. He would often tell me stories about how Pink was going to leave me and how people are just out to hurt me on purpose. (again he was highly aware of my decline into full blown psychosis.) IT got to the point where Pink told me not to talk to him due to the effect it was having on my schizophrenia and my delusions. Pink later said he didn't care if I told Blu or not because he wanted someone I could talk to but warned against Blu's tactics.

All of these stressors and mental health crises and the impending abandonment that Blu would tell me was coming pushed me further and further to the edge until there were several suicide attempts made by me, which included, but aren't limited to me laying in the street in a busy street/freeway exit. I would wander the streets late night for hours until lost and black out quite easily and panic trying to get myself home. He would mock and make fun of these instances with my abusive ex, while actively flirting with him and putting me down to make himself look better.

During this time again, I was not okay in the slightest. Blu's manipulation didn't help that. When Blu brought up the fact that someone was calling him a groomer, (besides pink) I asked him about it and he denied he was ever sending porn to kids and that he ever had kids involved in his nsfw. He told me someone had leaked his nsfw into one of the art channels when the server existed but ultimately no kids were involved in nsfw and the leaking incident made him uncomfortable enough to delete the whole server. In fact. He told me when he had the server he was 17 but deleted a few days after being 18. This wasn't true. When I was able to comprehend and like literally form thought though Blu would lament on about how much he enjoyed his friend's company and how much he cared for them.

In February I had found out several things about Blu. That he was implying Pink was a rapist, and had SA'd me. That he had flown Red out to New York alone, and hid it from everyone and those he did tell he told it was a "mini birthday celebration". For me personally, that was the limit. I had known that Blu had liked Red and I thought he was honest with us when he told me he kept it platonic and he'd never done or drawn anything sexual for them. When I found out that he flew an 18 year old that he had a crush on, out for his 22nd birthday, alone...I felt my stomach drop.

I had known from that moment on what was being done. I reached out and asked BLu about the meet up as asked if anything had happened. I told him how inappropriate that was. He assured me nothing had gone down and told Red to dm me. Red Dm'd me and we called about it when the truth came out.

Over the next few days I had learned everything in this doc. I learned that he was involved with the grooming of the minors he claimed to protect. I learned that he had done what Toby fantasized about – flying Red out for sex. I had learned that he had been secretly in a relationship for almost a year with the person he had groomed since they were 15. I had learned that he had known it was wrong and that he had heard us explain why, and did care. I learned that he even mocked Pink for his own trauma (undergoing what red did) and said “if he had really cared about grooming he would've gotten away from Orange sooner”

I would like to ask for full disassociation from Blu and Toby. This behavior is absolutely unacceptable and something I am horrified to discover, under no situation would I allow something like this to continue. I would also like to express my lack of bias, this is a situation I invested in solely for the victims and to prevent future occurrences. I want no association, brands or otherwise from Hexumfiend along with KingShada

Brown's Statement:

Brown-I met Blu online in passing around 2018-2019, we hadn't talked much but I had loved seeing his art when I could within my friends server. Around late July of 2021 was when I met him irl and became roommates/friends with him in Yellow's home. Knowing him for the few years that I had, and learning what info he had told me regarding his relationship with Red (knowing now that he has not gotten over— and even mourned his ex Toby), just feels appalling and so frustrating. This is especially upsetting considering what he's done for years, now turning around and doing the same thing. During this situation my kindness and willingness to help Blu out, as any friend would, was thrown out the window and used as his excuse to continue this relationship. I'd comfort Blu so that he had a shoulder to cry on and someone to vent to when needed, only to hear how much he'd complain and never fix anything afterwards. I personally hadn't known what to do with any of the info he'd relay to me, especially with most of it being emotionally charged— amping up my own feelings, whether it was positive or negative, in the process— and I'd become angry. Being lied to and having a two-faced, mean reaction to me simply telling Yellow and Pink what info I knew abt Blu and Red genuinely hurts me, considering it was all done with Red's safety in mind.

I want no association nor any semblance of a friendship or interaction with Blu/Hexumfiend after this is out. It's upsetting knowing what I knew and not having any clue what to do with the information at hand. What you have done Blu is beyond irresponsible and disgusting to see at such a display, you did nothing to change the situation in the past and present, nor did you care about your actions from beginning to the end, both in real life and recorded.
